Kennedy To Give 'State Of Union' Message Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will deliver his first State of the Union message to a joint session of Congress Monday.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., told newsmen the date was agreed on at a meeting of Democratic congressional leaders with the President this morning. He said he assumed the hour for Kennedy's appearance before the joint session will be the usual one — 12:30 p. m. EST.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told newsmen there was no discussion at today's meeting of the legislative recommendations that Kennedy will submit to Congress later.

He said that he expects separate messages embodying legislative proposals will be sent to Congress within a week or two after Kennedy delivers his State of the Union message.

Republicans applauded the President's decision to outline his program within a week after taking office.

Sens. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the assistant Senate Republican leader, and Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said they hope Kennedy makes it clear how far he intends to go in carrying out the spending pledges in the Democratic platform.

"The people have a right to know what this New Frontier is going to cost them," Goldwater said.

Kuchel said he hopes "the excessive platform promises in Los Angeles will not be the basis for the President's proposals."

Mansfield said he is confident "every Democrat will go along as far as he can in good conscience in support of the President's program."

Mansfield said that in succeeding Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson as the Senate's majority leader he realizes that he has had to give up some of his independence as a senator. He said this is particularly true of a Democratic leader dealing with a Democratic president.

President, Aides Study Disarm Plan

'Serious Proposals' Get First Nod For Inspection, Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy meets with top disarmament advisers today in a first step toward drawing up "serious and precise proposals for the inspection and control of arms."

The White House gathering is the third master strategy session in as many days on foreign policy problems.

Called to the executive mansion were disarmament chief John J. McCloy, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Assistant Secretary of Defense-designate Paul H. Nitze, presidential security adviser McGeorge Bundy and presidential science adviser Jerome Wiesner.

Kennedy said during his campaign that "the most gaping hole in American foreign policy today is our lack of a concrete plan for disarmament."

In his inaugural address Friday, he said both the Soviet Union and the United States should "for the first time formulate serious and precise proposals for the inspection and control of arms — and bring the absolute power to destroy other nations under the absolute control of all nations."

Rusk, McNamara and Bundy were among the foreign affairs and defense leaders who gathered at the White House Monday in an all-day review and planning meeting.

In the course of the day: 1. Rusk, with Kennedy's approval, issued a statement saying Kennedy and he plan to stress normal diplomatic means rather than summit parleys in dealing with major international problems.

Officials said the policy applied not only to dealings with the Soviets, whose Premier Khrushchev has repeatedly pushed for summit get-togethers, but also to the numerous other foreign statesmen who have become increasingly imbued with the idea of doing business on a personal basis. But high-level meetings were not ruled out when they would be deemed fruitful.

City To Return 2 In Burglary

Wheeling To Release Pair In Local Cases

Two East Liverpool officers are scheduled to go to Wheeling this afternoon to return a 19-year-old West Virginia man and his 17-year-old companion from Cleveland who admitted 2 local burglaries early Sunday after they were arrested for attempting to break into a Wheeling restaurant.

Burglary charges were filed today in Municipal Court against Charles Roy Richards, 19, of West Liberty in connection with the burglary of the Goodyear Service Store on Walnut St. last Wednesday night in which 5 transistor radios and an electric razor were stolen, 2 vending machines were rifled and an unsuccessful attempt was made to force open a safe.

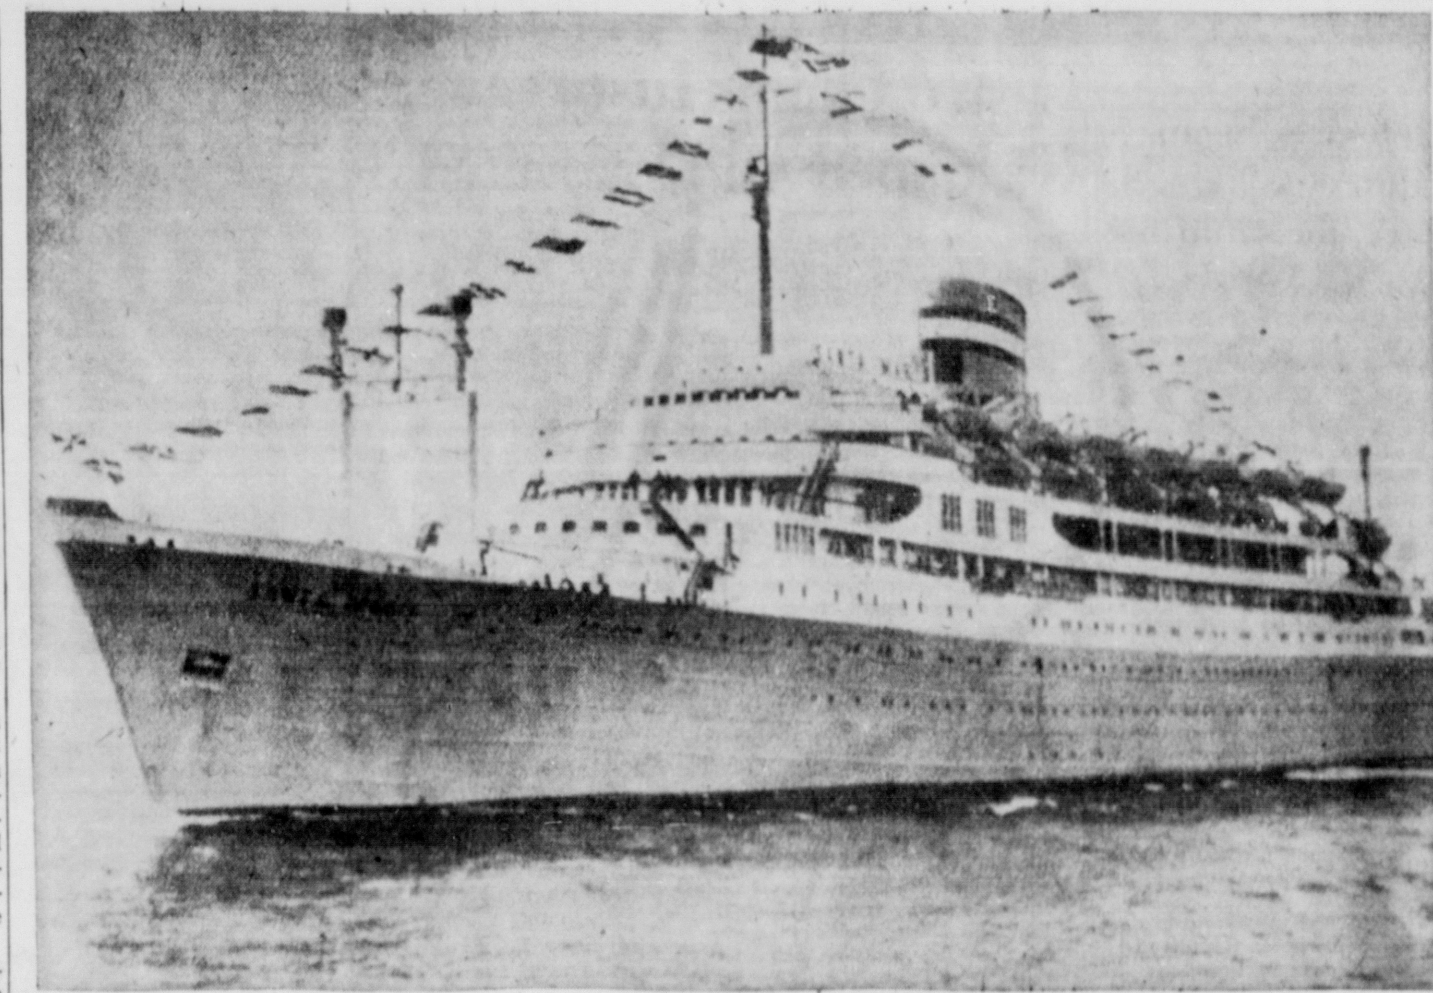

Both Richards and his youthful companion have waived extradition to Ohio, Police Chief Americo Radeschi said. Richards is scheduled for a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court. The 17-year-old will be referred to Columbiana County juvenile authorities.

The two also admitted breaking into Ann's Restaurant on the Diamond the same night, taking $25 in change from an unlocked cash register.

Patrolmen Charles A. Winters and William A. Devon are scheduled to go to Wheeling to take custody of the two. They were arrested after the younger of the pair suffered a cut wrist in attempting to break a pane of glass in the front door of DiBernard's Restaurant.

British Craft Loses Trail

Hijacked Ship Carrying 800 Reported Headed For Brazil

HIJACKED SHIP. The 20,906-ton Portuguese liner Santa Maria, which was hijacked Monday by an armed band of 70 in Caribbean waters, was en route from the Dutch island Curacao to Port Everglades, near Miami. The ship was reported headed for Brazil today. (UPI Telephoto)

U.S. Planes, Destroyers Join Hunt

Armed Band Of 70 Seized Vessel; One Ship Officer Killed

LONDON (AP) — The British frigate Rothesay reported today that the Portuguese cruise ship Santa Maria, hijacked in the Caribbean with more than 800 persons aboard, appeared to be headed for Brazil at a speed of about 20 knots.

The British Admiralty said the Rothesay, a 370-foot submarine hunter, was trailing the Santa Maria in West Indies waters about 150 miles east of Trinidad.

But the Santa Maria was gone when the Rothesay reached that general area. The Rothesay, running low on oil, radioed that she was heading to Trinidad for refueling.

The admiralty said its frigate had been ordered to try to arrest the liner if she could do so outside territorial waters and by peaceful means—"without loss of life or the risk of scuttling."

The leader of the hijackers reportedly had threatened to scuttle the ship if interfered with.

Two U.S. Navy destroyers and a flight of Navy planes also were ordered on the trail of the fugitive ship. The Navy ordered the captains of the destroyers Wilson and Damato to find the Santa Maria, board it and escort it to the nearest U.S. port if they determined an act of piracy had been committed.

The Portuguese government said a band of about 70 armed men headed by ex-army Capt. Henrique Galvao—a longtime enemy of Portuguese Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar—seized control of the ship in the Caribbean before dawn Monday, killing at least one ship's officer and wounding an unknown number of crewmen.

The hijackers reportedly boarded the ship in the guise of passengers at La Guaira, Venezuela, and the Dutch island of Curacao, off the coast of Venezuela.

An Admiralty spokesman said the band might try to reach Brazil. Galvao has lived there for several months since his escape from hospital guards in Lisbon in 1959 while serving a 16-year sentence for treason.

The vessel had 1,568 tons of oil aboard, enough for 5,000 miles, and food for 20 days when the hijackers took over.

With the sun long up, the gray liner seemed to have vanished. Negative reports streamed in from the hunters.

More than 500 passengers — including Americans, Dutch, Venezuelans and Portuguese — and a crew of 370 were reported aboard the 20,906-ton liner.

2 More File At Wellsville

Kevan For Auditor, Ralston For Council

Two more Wellsville Democratic candidates filed today. They were incumbent Wilmer B. (Skip) Ralston, 1712 Clark Ave., for council-at-large and Richard Kevan, 1504 Clark Ave., for auditor.

Ralston, an employee of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., will be seeking his second consecutive term. He is active in the First Christian Church and is chairman of the property committee for City Council.

Kevan is making his first try in politics. He also is employed by Ohio Bell and attends the First Christian Church. He is a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and is a basketball referee. He is married and has two daughters and a son.

Mayor Robert Harding of East Palestine filed Monday afternoon with the County Election Board for renomination on the Republican ticket at the May 2 primary.

James H. Lynch also filed on the GOP ticket for Third Ward seat on the East Palestine Council.

GOP Leaders Tell DiSalle It's His Move

Governor Expected To Take Action On 'Unbalanced Budget'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Republican legislative leaders have made it plain they feel the next move is up to Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle in the battle of the unbalanced budget.

Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, told newsmen he believes it possible DiSalle will make some move either

3 Die, 5 Safe In Crackup Of Jet Bomber

Multimillion-Dollar Ship Carried Two Unarmed A-Weapons

GOLDSBORO, N.C. (AP) — A multimillion-dollar jet bomber carrying two unarmed nuclear weapons crashed near here early today. Three men were killed, four parachuted to safety and an eighth man survived the flaming crash.

The Air Force said there was no danger of nuclear explosion or radiation.

One of the unidentified nuclear weapons was jettisoned before the crash and was parachuted safely. The second was found in the wreckage of the huge eight-jet B52G of the Strategic Air Command which crashed about 15 miles north of Goldsboro.

The plane, stationed at nearby Seymour Johnson Air Force Base, was returning for an emergency landing shortly after midnight after being airborne several hours. The pilot had radioed he was having fuel problems.

Lt. Col. Thomas Coleman, a public information officer, said "it looks like it broke up in the air and fell." Parts of the plane were scattered over a 1½-mile area.

The pilot, Maj. Walter F. Tulloch, 45, of San Diego, Calif., made a dramatic appearance at dawn. He had been considered missing.

Firm To Build Super-Market At Wellsville

A Dover firm has announced plans to construct a new super-market in Wellsville.

The Mason Foodliner Co. will construct the new market on a section of land located off upper Wells Ave. behind Heaton's Harley-Davidson Sales & Service, 323 Wells Ave. Part of the ground to be utilized is the site of the former American Sheet & Tin Plate Co. mill.

Daniel Mason, who is associated in the business with his father, H. L. Mason, said no date has been set to begin construction.

Mason said an architect is preparing plans for the market. It will contain approximately 12,000 square feet of floor space. It first was believed the building would be 100-x-120-feet, but the dimensions had to be altered because of the terrain.

Mason said the building still will have about the same amount of floor space as originally planned. The building will house the food market, a bakery and a lunch counter, all to be operated by the firm.

Work already has been started on clearing the land of trees and leveling it. The job is being done by Gus E. Klavuhn of Hillcrest.

Mason and his father operate a large supermarket in Dover. He said the district operations will be similar.

C. W. Arnold, Wellsville real estate agent, handled the negotiations for some of the properties. Mason said he will announce the construction plans when the drawings are completed.

Tompos Introduces Severance Tax Bill

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Another severance tax bill is introduced in the West Virginia Legislature today, this one by Sen. William Tompos, D - Hancock.

His bill to tax production of natural resources carries lower rates than a severance measure introduced earlier in the House by Dels. Marshall G. West, D-Wyoming, and Roy Lee Harmon, D-Raleigh.

The Tompos bill calls for rates of 10 cents a ton on coal, 25 cents a barrel on oil and 1 cent per 1,000 cubic feet on natural gas. The West-Harmon bill, now before the House Finance Committee, proposed rates of 20 cents a ton on coal, 40 cents a barrel on oil and 2 cents per 1,000 cubic feet on gas.

to shave his budget requests or make some suggestion as to how the legislature can make up an estimated $74 million deficiency.

And House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, echoed, "We are not concerned with how it happens, just so it happens."

The two Republican legislative leaders dined with DiSalle at the Governor's Mansion Monday night just before the legislature started its fourth week of sessions. In a post-session news conference, they expressed reluctance to take issue with the governor so soon after accepting his hospitality.

But, under newsmen's questioning, they reiterated their belief the law requires the governor not only to suggest the amount of money the legislature should appropriate for each two-year period, but also suggest the sources of the revenue.

The governor last week submitted an appropriations bill calling for expenditure of $2.1 billion in general and highway funds. No GOP member of the House is willing, at the moment, to sponsor the spending measure.

Skid Blamed In Crash Of Car, Station Wagon

A skid was blamed for a collision that damaged a station wagon and a parked auto Monday at 2:05 p. m. on W. 4th St. at Jefferson St., police said.

A 1955 station wagon operated by Mrs. June M. Bourne of S. Shady Ln. Dr. collided with a parked 1951 two-door owned by Gene Penny of Alpha St., officers said. There was damage to the left front of each vehicle.

Mrs. Bourne told police she turned off Jefferson St. and headed left onto W. 4th St., going around a parked truck, when her station wagon skidded and hit the parked auto.

Curriculum Firm Hired For Hancock

New York Concern To Set Up Program In School Expansion

A New York consultant firm, considered one of the most outstanding in the country, was employed by the Hancock County Board of Education Monday night to fashion a curriculum for a proposed $5½ million expansion and modernization program that would include three new schools.

Following up earlier action of adopting the recommendations of an Ohio State University research team of a modern expansion program, the board hired Englehardt, Englehardt & Leggett as consultants.

The New York firm will work with Kellam & Foley Architects of Columbus to develop buildings to house the educational programs of the three new schools recommended by the OSU survey team.

The board plans to submit to county voters sometime in May a $5½ million bond issue for the expansion and modernization program recommended to cope with yearly increases in enrollment.

The OSU researchers recommended that new high schools be constructed in the Pughtown area and Weirton, in addition to a new junior high school in the Weirton area.

The board reiterated that passage of the bond issue will not mean any additional tax rates to residents in continuing the present financial program. The bonds would be retired in about 18 years.

Mother Jailed, Fined For Drugging Children

CLEVELAND (AP) — A juvenile court judge sentenced the mother of the "Sleeping Beauty" Fratanio sisters today to the maximum penalty of a year in jail and a fine of $1,500 plus costs for secretly feeding the little girls sleep-inducing drugs.

Judge Albert A. Woldman sternly lectured the petite, raven-haired Mrs. Lillian Fratanio, saying: "You were not only a bad mother to your children, you were a bad wife to your husband. Unless there is a change in your personality, you should not be trusted with the upbringing of your children."

He told the 29-year-old mother of five that she was fortunate she was charged only with ill-treatment of her two daughters, Bernadette, 3, and Venita, 6. It is only a matter of luck, the judge told her, that the children escaped death and the charge was not more serious.

Winter's Severest Cold

Zero To 10 Below Forecast Tonight

A severe cold wave with the lowest temperatures of winter was blowing into the Tri-State District today with a forecast of zero to 10 below tonight.

The possible sub-zero cold started moving through the area early today, dropping the mercury 5 degrees in one hour at Dam 7 at Midland.

The dam had 18 degrees at 7 a. m. and the mercury fell to 13 by 8, dipping to 11, then going back to 13 at noon. The Ohio weatherman said the temperature would decline steadily throughout the day.

The State Highway Department garage at Leetonia was advised the mercury would fall to 5 to 10 above zero late this afternoon then plunge rapidly to 5 to 10 below for the night's low.

Frequent flurries or snow squalls were to accompany the worst cold wave of the season and they will continue Wednesday. There was no break in the cold for two or three days at least and Wednesday will also be very cold.

Blustery winds were increasing as the temperature dropped, but they were expected to diminish by tomorrow.

Squalls of snow added to the accumulation in the Ohio Valley last night but the Leetonia garage reported about 3 more inches of snow and all 18 truck crews were sent out at 2 a. m. today to cinder and plow sections that were not blown clear by the high winds.

District roads were snowcovered and slippery in many places and there were some traffic tieups on hills such as at Cannons Mills and elsewhere.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon had only one accident report—a coal truck skidding off Route 45 north of Lisbon about 6 a. m.

The truck, driven by Dwight Hill, 31, of Summitville, jackknifed and hit a highway sign when Hill, coming over the crest of a hill and finding two vehicles crossways in the road, attempted to halt the truck and it skidded.

The two cars — one operated by Nathan Marcini of Bedford — had skidded on the roadway.

County workers were not called out last night but began working at their regular time this morning. Drifting was reported on several sections of county roads, John Neill, superintendent, said.

The Beaver County division of the Pennsylvania Highway Department at Rochester reported 2 inches of snow and strong winds causing bad drifts. All roads are open but slippery in spots, Robert B. termore, superintendent, said.

Red-Castroist Group Battled By Venezuela

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press news Analyst
CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Venezuela today is going through a test of profound importance to the United States and Latin America.

While the rest of the continent watches, President Romulo Betancourt and his supporters are casting aside their fear of Castroism and its potential for mischief in alliance with communism.

The president's forces appear to be confusing and outwitting the Communist-Castroist combine.

They now have a good chance of inflicting a decisive defeat on the extremist alliance and of making it stick.

If they do this, they will have damaged Communist attempts to use Castroism for a heavy cold war offensive throughout Latin America. Venezuela's example can give courage to other continental governments fearful of Castro's hold on the imaginations of violently impatient young men.

The Communists might eventually resort to tactics of desperation and this could mean more trouble for Venezuela.

The Communists and their Castroist allies suffered defeat in their early December attempt to topple the Betancourt government by means of a general strike. Betancourt's party, the Accion Democratica, supported by Social Christians of the Copei party, showed how tough it could be.

Betancourt's government suspended constitutional guarantees during the recent explosions of violence. They were restored Monday for nine hours, then suspended again with an announcement of new threats of rebellion by the Communists and their allies in the Movimiento de Izquierda Revolucionario, made up of young hotheads who admire Cuba's Fidel Castro.

Betancourt a quarter century ago was himself a Communist, so he knows how they work. Today he is probably the man the Communists hate most in all Latin America. He is hated because he can block extremism of the Castro type which might lead to the chaos and confusion which is a classic Communist weapon of cold war.

They hate him, too, because Betancourt has set out to demonstrate that constitutional government can work in Venezuela.

'Mothers March' Volunteers Await District Meetings

Sixteen district captains for the Mothers March on Polio Jan. 31 will meet at the Travelers Hotel Wednesday night at 7 to receive instructions and supplies for the house-to-house canvass.

They will meet with Richard G. Brian, southern county chairman of the March of Dimes, Mrs. Dorothy Crooks, chairman of the Mothers March, and her aides — Mrs. Jean Snow, Mrs. Mossie Martin and Mrs. Betty Anderson.

Meanwhile, distribution of supplies for the Mothers March at Wellsville, also on Jan. 31, is scheduled tonight at 8 in McGeehan's Restaurant at Wellsville.

Wellsville team captains will meet with Brian and Mrs. Florine Broderick, head of the Mothers March in the community.

Salineville's Mothers March also will be Jan. 31. State Rep. J. Warren Bettis is the community March of Dimes chairman and Mrs. Katie Mundy heads the Mothers March.

About 450 women volunteers are expected to participate in the Mothers March in the East Liverpool area. In addition to the city proper, they will call on homes in the LaCroft, Sherwood, Calcutta and Glenmoor areas.

Wellsville's Mothers March, with about 150 women participating, will extend into the suburban areas as far as Highlandtown.

Church Sets Food Sale

IRONDALE — A homemade vegetable soup and pie sale will be sponsored by the WSCS of the Methodist Church Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 in the church. No food will be served in the church and purchasers must bring their own containers. Proceeds will be used for projects.

Delegate From Hancock Named To Subcommittee

Miss Callie Tsapis, Hancock County's member of the House of Delegates, introduced two bills and was named to a subcommittee for study of a child law today at the 55th session of the West Virginia Legislature in Charleston.

Bills introduced by the county's first woman delegate are:

To increase justice of the peace fees, with proposed boosts to include one from $3.50 to $5 for criminal proceedings and cases brought before magistrates.

To increase fees of constables in criminal cases, including $1.50 to $4 for an arrest in a felony case and $1 to $3.50 for an arrest of another type, but with elimination of mileage fees.

Miss Tsapis was named to a subcommittee to study a bill that would make the birth of two or more illegitimate children a misdemeanor on the parts of both the father and the mother.

The bill was introduced by Del. Jack R. Nuzum of Randolph County. He was named to the subcommittee, along with Miss Tsapis and James H. Davis III of Kanawha County.

The bill was shelved earlier by the House Judiciary but reconsidered Monday and assigned to the subcommittee for further study.

New, More Powerful Atlas Missile Eyed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force will concentrate on developing a new, more powerful Atlas missile now that it has fired the final test rocket in the present operational "D" series.

The last D rocket thundered 5,000 miles to the South Atlantic Monday, planting its nose cone "well within two miles of the target," officials announced.

The firing wound up a 20-month test program in which the D Atlas became this nation's largest military missile and space booster. Of 49 shots in the series, 35 were successful.

Worker, 26, Injured In Fall At New Mine

A 26-year-old Moundsville construction worker is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with back and skull injuries suffered in a mishap at the new McLain Refractories Division mine on Route 45 near Wellsville Monday afternoon.

Michael Simons was injured when he suddenly fell backward while pulling on a wrench at work. An employee of the Williamson Shaft Co., he was taken to the hospital in an ambulance.

To Be Arraigned

PITTSFIELD, MASS. (AP) — Robert B. Wynn, 26, was to be arraigned in District Court today in connection with the stabbing death of his 22-year-old wife, Joyce, at their Cincinnati home last Tuesday after a family argument. Wynn was arrested in Pittsfield Monday shortly after he arrived by train from Cincinnati to visit relatives.

18th, 19th Century Plans

New First Lady Embarks On Redecorating Chores

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new First Lady, embarking on redecorating her White House quarters, intends to stick very closely to the 18th and 19th century period of the presidential mansion.

That's the word from the Kennedys' artist friend, William Walton, who will be in on Jacqueline Kennedy's scheduled art consultations today.

Walton said Mrs. Kennedy wants to make the White House living quarters "look a little warmer and more friendly." No changes are planned in the mansion's public rooms.

Two top figures in Washington art circles, John Walker, director of the National Gallery of Art, and David Finley, chairman of the Commission of Fine Arts, have appointments today with Mrs. Kennedy.

Walton will be there too, the White House announced Monday. He helped out with campaign organizing for Kennedy, and he says now he's helping out his former Georgetown neighbors in planning redecoration of their new home.

Mrs. Kennedy is getting something of an orientation survey of what's what in White House art and history.

Museums have been accustomed to lending paintings to the White House and Walton said Mrs. Kennedy is ascertaining how much borrowed art the White House can use comfortably and what might be available for loan.

The Kennedys will bring some framed 18th century French drawings from their Georgetown home, but plan to buy no additional art works at this time.

Vows Vengeance

Castro Claims Insurgents Kidnaped And Executed 3

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro charged today that counterrevolutionaries had kidnaped and hanged two militiamen and a uniformed school teacher the insurgents accused of being a Communist.

Vowing vengeance, the prime minister declared the executions were carried out early this month in the hills of Las Villas Province by a group calling itself the "Army of National Liberation."

Speaking at graduation exercises for 1,200 young men and women of the militia who have qualified as teachers, Castro reported that 20 "counterrevolutionary criminals" had been captured in the area where the alleged hangings took place in south central Cuba.

As the new teachers shouted "Pardon!" (to the execution wall), the prime minister pledged: "Over all of them will befall a persecution such as they could never imagine. Nothing will save them—not even mercenaries they are expecting or their imperialist bosses."

Castro blamed "henchmen in cassocks"—a reference to the Roman Catholic clergy—and "agents of imperialism" for giving "ideological arms" to the enemies of the revolution.

He attacked specifically the Spanish priests who make up a majority of the Roman Catholic clergy in Cuba.

About 100 women demonstrated in front of the presidential palace Monday night against the revival of Castro's firing squad justice and clashed with pro-Castro hecklers.

Most of them clad in black, the women marched on the palace carrying signs reading "end the execution of our sons." Fighting broke out when hecklers tried to seize a Cuban flag they were carrying. Militiamen dispersed the crowd and took one woman and several men into the palace.

The government resumed the granting of exit permits needed by Cubans and all foreigners—except tourists—to leave the country. A clampdown on such permits was imposed when the regime proclaimed an "invasion alert."

Board Names Architect On New Building

Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect, was retained Monday night by the Southern Local Board of Education to prepare plans for a proposed new high school for the district.

The action cleared the way for a meeting Feb. 1 with Dr. Sam Hicks, head of an Ohio University survey team, to select a site for the proposed school.

Dr. Hicks, director of the university group which has undertaken a survey of the school district's needs and potentials, will confer with Beatty in an all-day meeting.

Both men are to be prepared to make recommendations to a Citizens' Advisory Council at a meeting that night, according to Jack Baker, executive head, who conferred with Hicks today by telephone.

Beatty, who designed the high school cafeteria in 1957-58, was chosen by the board after it narrowed the prospective architects to Hanahan & Strollo of Youngstown and Beatty.

The district has a priority grant of $404,000 from the state Board of Education for a new school, and will vote May 2 on a proposed $356,000 bond issue for the school.

Members of the advisory council, which will select the site, include Ralph Hays, Dale R. Rose, Robert McPherson and John Withrow of the Highlandtown Parent-Teacher Association; Jack Steward, Paul McIntosh, Charles Pelley and Mrs. John Curry of the No. 16 PTA.

David Fraser, Joseph Feth, Homer Smith and Mrs. James Whelan of Salineville PTA, and John Edwing, Joe Rowley, Ray Crawford and Mabel Weston of Wayne PTA, along with Robert Cole, Robert Skinner, Martin Adams and Albert Eisenbarth of the board.

CD Ceremony At Midland

Auxiliary Police Receive Diplomas

Beaver County Civil Defense officials were present Monday evening as diplomas were presented to 26 Midland unit members who successfully completed an eight-week auxiliary police school.

Left to right are Daniel Orlando, Midland unit director; Sgt. Robert McBride of the New Brighton police department, instructor; Joseph M. Gregor, who received the highest score of 96 in last week's tests and receives his diploma from W. C. MacMillen, county CD director, and Raymond Buckley, assistant county CD director. Both MacMillen and Buckley are of Beaver.

MacMillen spoke on police auxiliary and Civil Defense and stressed their importance. He said that the fallout of some 53 nuclear bombs detonated throughout the country could kill half the population if there are no shelters.

He said that in order to survive such an attack enough people should be enrolled to guide others. Women and children above 14 may also join Civil Defense units, he said.

He congratulated the Midland unit on its progress. There were brief remarks by Buckley, Sgt. McBride and MacMillen handed out the diplomas.

Receiving them are Gregor, Ben Smith, Joseph G. Felkey, Robert Reighard, Charles Salis

Jr., Richard R. Felkey, Joseph A. Felkey, Orlando, James Lento, Steve D. Roknich, James Henry, Francis Murray, John A. Zuppe, John Cohista, Walter Janicki, Francis E. Wolf.

Resden Samuels, Leonard W. Coryell, Anthony M. Ross, James Crappio, William T. Cox, John A. Nott, William J. Vinovich, Vincent DeMaggio and Constables Bernard Zlatovich and Michael Haydin of Ohio Township.

Members will meet Saturday at 7:30 p. m. in Council Chambers in the Borough Building to discuss plans for a wrestling match Feb. 11 to raise funds for unit projects.

Man In Theft Gets Probation

Russell Lightner, 20, of West Point was given 5 years probation when arraigned Monday in Circuit Court in New Cumberland on an indictment charging breaking and entering a maintenance shed at Waterford Park Race Track Oct. 4.

Judge Ralph Pryor earlier sentenced a companion, Arnold Scogin, 20, of Springfield, Ill., to a 1-to-10 year term in prison with recommendation for probation providing he find employment.

The pair was charged with entering a building at the race track and hauling away in their auto maintenance equipment. The tools and other items were recovered by Hancock County sheriff's deputies.

Judge Pryor also gave Sam Trimmer, 21, of Steubenville 5 years probation. Trimmer was indicted by the January Grand Jury on a charge of breaking and entering the Valley View Restaurant in Weirton.

Deputies said John F. Ward, 32, of Adolphus St., Chester, was to be arraigned in Circuit Court today to change his plea in an indictment.

Ward earlier pleaded innocent to a charge of felonious assault of Patrolman Clarence Lennens of Chester June 11.

Deputies notified a panel of jurors that were to have served during Ward's trial that they were excused until further notice.

Citrus Supply Called 'Ample'

Citrus fruits dominate the market this week, according to Richard Skinner, marketing agent with the Cooperative Extension Service in Canfield.

Oranges, grapefruit and tangerines are plentiful. Oranges have been high throughout the season and probably will continue to be so. Tangerines continue to offer the best buy, Skinner said.

Colorful red apples are counter to this week. Stagman, Rome and Delicious are the most common varieties. Washington apples also are available. You can expect to pay 49 cents for a 4-pound bag of local Romes and Stagman and 59 cents for Delicious.

Washington apples are sold by the pound, usually 2 pounds for 39 cents. The reason for the difference is not quality but increased transportation costs on Washington apples.

For variety, look for bananas and emperor grapes, Skinner said. Cranberries continue to be plentiful.

Cabbage is the big news on the vegetable counters this week. Fresh cabbage and sauerkraut, its canned counterpart, are available throughout the year. However, now is the peak of the season for fresh cabbage. Quality is considered good and prices are low in many markets.

Potatoes, at slightly higher prices than earlier in the season, remain a good buy. Local potatoes have a price tag of about 20 cents lower on a 10-pound bag. Again the difference in price is not because of quality but because of increased transportation costs.

Fryers have been very reasonably priced. The demand for fryers is lower at this time. Supplies are above normal and as a result you can expect to find attractive prices.

Pork and beef will probably remain competitively priced. Egg prices are inching downward.

30 Make Application For Tests On City Jobs

With a filing deadline at 4 p. m. today, some 30 applications have been received so far for 2 examinations the Civil Service Commission will conduct to fill vacancies in the water and sewage disposal departments.

The applications are divided about equally for posts as assistant maintenance man in the water department and sewage plant operator. About 45 men took out application blanks for each job.

The commission will conduct a test for the water department post on Feb. 6 at 7:30 p. m. in City Hall and has scheduled the test for the sewage plant operator's post for Feb. 20, also at 7:30 p. m. in City Hall.

Recorder May Hold Key To Plane Crash

NEW YORK (AP)—A crash-proof flight recorder dug out of the frozen earth may hold the secret of why a Mexican jetliner crashed on takeoff at Idlewild Airport last Thursday night during a snowstorm.

The recorder, recovered in the wreckage Monday, will be sent to Washington for study. It might hold vital information on the plane's speed and compass heading and whether its wheel actually left the ground.

Crucible Gift Raises Fund To $72,743

Crucible Steel Co. has donated $1,150 to the Community Fund drive, boosting the total pledged so far to $72,743, William A. Black, drive chairman, reported at a meeting of division heads Monday afternoon at the YMCA.

Division heads reported a number of contacts still are to be made. A total of 488 cards still are on the chart and should yield an additional $3,000. They pledged to follow up on the remaining cards in an effort to secure enough money for the continued operation of the six agencies.

The division heads also reported to Black on the present campaign and recommendations for next year's drive.

Bad weather has hampered the completion of the campaign, but a comparative analysis indicates the final result should produce funds to equal or better other campaigns.

Besides the corporate gift, Crucible employees are participating in a payroll deduction plan and a check is expected in April or May.

Beginning The Kennedy Years

Never do Americans hold their heads higher or walk more proudly than during the interval of high resolution after a new government has been installed.

Later, when the high resolutions have been muddled in quarrels and factionalism has reasserted itself, heads are bowed and the proud step wavers into the shuffle of expediency.

That is both the glory and curse of self-government. The administration of John F. Kennedy will be no more immune than were the administrations of his predecessors.

One thing about this vigorous new chief executive of the United States is plain. His sense of history is sensitive and acute. His vigor is palpable, but it is disciplined.

IN AN INAUGURAL address as challenging as any statement of purpose ever made in behalf of the American people, he has put his government and his countrymen in a clear light.

The United States will assert its dedication to freedom aggressively under his leadership. The proposition is forthright:

"Let the word go forth from this time and place, to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans—born in this century, tempered by war, disciplined by a hard and bitter peace, proud of our ancient heritage—and unwilling to witness or permit the slow undoing of those human rights to which this nation has always been committed, and to which we are committed today at home and around the world. Let every nation know, whether it wish us well or ill, that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend or oppose any foe in order to assure the survival and success of liberty."

NOW WE BEGIN the Kennedy years. Again, our self-governing society has reconstituted itself under new leadership to seek its destiny in history.

We have listened to the manifesto of a new leader.

We have been impressed with the uniformly high quality of the men he has gathered around him.

We concede without hesitation that no new administration ever had the benefit of a better educated group of administrative chiefs and assistants.

We admire without reservation the efficiency with which the transition from the Eisenhower years to the Kennedy years was carried out; it has been a tribute to both administrations and an example for the future.

Whether we voted for Mr. Kennedy or Richard Nixon, we can share the thrill of knowing that nothing in the history of man's long struggle to learn the art of government has stirred more admiration than this latest demonstration of the dignity of popular sovereignty in the United States.

NOW BEGINS the hard part of popular sovereignty—the sacrifice, toil and patience that will be needed to put up with the misunderstanding, dissension and the malice that complicate the affairs of men.

President Kennedy cannot command a following; he must win it by precept and persuasion. He must work inside the limitations, sometimes gall, of a loyal opposition that makes the government in power prove every proposition before it can be adopted.

The new President has a special problem in his own Democratic party, which is irrevocably split over the issues of civil rights and the sovereignty of states.

He will discover, as his predecessors discovered, that America's allies are not always as concerned as it is with expanding the frontiers of human liberty.

He will learn about the jealousies of nationalism and the wiles of statesmen who practice deceit.

These are the kind of quarrels that muddy and bedraggle bright principles and shining purposes. Out of them come the expediences that constitute the main current of public decision.

All this Mr. Kennedy knows.

The Kennedy years have begun.

Give The District A Vote

This is the year—1961—that a glaring omission in the Constitution, which failed to give voting rights in national elections to residents of the District of Columbia, can be corrected.

Forty-two state legislatures meet this year. All of them have a chance to ratify a proposed amendment to the Constitution permitting District of Columbia residents to vote for president and vice president. In the absence of objection, ratification should be automatic—and there is no valid objection.

The proposed amendment does not make the District of Columbia a state. It does not give its residents the right to vote for members of Congress. It does not change in any respect the authority of Congress over the federal district. All it seeks to do and all it could do, if ratified, would be to let District of Columbia residents vote for president and vice president in national elections.

The proposed amendment must be ratified by three-fourths of the states within seven years to become part of the Constitution. So carefully has it been framed, to avoid giving offense, that it specifies the number of electors representing District of Columbia voters can be no more than the number allotted to the least populous state—a minimum of three.

The clinching argument in its presentation is what it always has been. The Constitutional Convention neglected to enfranchise District of Columbia voters by an oversight. Its members did not know what the federal district would be, or where it would be. They never intended that any group of citizens should be deprived of their franchise by an accident of geography.

The accident should be undone and corrected before the 1964 election. Ohio should ratify the proposed amendment. Three states—Hawaii, Massachusetts and New Jersey—ratified it last year. Thirty-eight states in all must ratify, to constitute a three-fourths majority.

Vigilance Is Needed

Complaints from Pennsylvania state police relative to teen-age drinking across the line in neighboring West Virginia re-emphasize the need for constant policing against such violations.

Be it Pennsylvania, West Virginia or Ohio, law enforcement agencies should be ever on the alert against the practice.

The major burden falls on the shoulders of the tavern operator. If there's any doubt as to the legal age of a prospective customer, the proper approach should be "No Sale." If the tavern operator is willing to take a chance, however, he or she should be prepared to pay the maximum penalty if apprehended.

Central heating, itself, bears little resemblance to the early outfits, featuring hand-fired furnaces and hand-operated controls. Thermostats, gas, oil and electricity now do automatically what formerly was done with variable opinions and whims.

Winter will continue to be a season of inconvenience—a season when the "Living ain't easy." But it has quit being a time of chronic suffering, climaxed by frostbite and chilblains. Ingenuity has made it inconsequential, as far as temperature is concerned. Even snow, except in Washington, is a routine problem solved routinely by applying the ingenuity of man.

fallen arches, galloping gray hair (if any) and a dangerous touch of madness.

WOMAN BANK OFFICIAL in an Iowa town is charged with embezzling $2 million over a long period, without anybody suspecting loss of a dime. Maybe the bank examiners thought a careful check would, in case of a woman, lack gallantry.

Townpeople are springing to the gal's defense with statements that she had kindly disposition and was very charitable to all causes. The fact it was with other people's money isn't emphasized.

Ex-Gov. Ribicoff, new head of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, voted against the creation of such a department when he was congressman. He was alarmed over super government at that time.

The Once Over

We like the name "Disturbia" instead of "Suburbia" for some small towns. It is coined by Richard and Katherine Gordon in their book, "The Split-Level Trap," picturing suburban tensions and trials as conducive to heart failure, ulcers and high blood pressure.

Indifferent government, smugness toward taxpayers' complaints, commuting harassments and worries over taxes, crabgrass, etc., break many a man down, the authors say, and they are not wrong.

Ye ed lives in a small Connecticut town. The taxes are among highest in the country, the main highway is under water through poor drainage more often than in Indian days, city services are incredible and, despite budget of millions, City Hall won't buy a broom, modern trashcan or adequate "No Littering" signs.

The Merry Mortician

The Senator Wants To 'Blast Off'

By Victor Riesel

Those close to the ever crusading Sen. John McClellan say he is ready to blast off another "national scandal." This time rockets, not rackets, are at the end of his investigatory fuse.

The senator believes that "millions of dollars have been wasted and time has stood still at our skyscraping bases because local unions have battled each other."

So the gentleman from Arkansas has been talking to the gentleman from Texas—the "leadership" known as Lyndon Johnson—about authority for a spanking probe of missile base delays.

What McClellan seeks is authority from the Senate to subpoena local union officials. As head of the Committee on Government Operations he can call in government officials, such as the heads of the Pentagon and the National Aeronautics and Space Agency.

But he needs Senate approval even to summon regional labor officials who have stopped the clock in the race for space because some union other than theirs has the job of pulling an electric wire through a wall. McClellan's investigators are ready to go.

THEY KNOW, for example, that there have been such union duels—jurisdictional strikes, they're called—at least once every 20 days on a missile base. In addition, there has been at least one straight strike against some Air Force Base every four days.

Typical of what has angered this solemn defender of the public rights is a moment on the morning of Jan. 17. Ticking off the continental communications system into Joe Finnegan's Federal Mediation Service—and into the Pentagon—came a message saying that work had stopped at 5 p.m., Jan. 16, at spots A, B and C at the Forbes Air Force Base near Topeka, Kan.

Convair was installing the usual secret equipment for missiles to be unleashed at the enemy if ever we're attacked.

CONVAIR HIRED its own technicians, members of the International Association of Machinists. Electricians, members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, quit their jobs on all surrounding installations. Electrical wiring was their jurisdiction, they said.

If they did not handle the Convair job, work would stop all over the base. Work stopped. It made no difference that over 665 man days had already been lost, in the year ending last June and probably hundreds more, when totaled, in the following six months.

Then there was the kind of irritation Sen. McClellan discovered at Cape Canaveral recently. On Dec. 21 members of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers "wildcatted" at the Canaveral missile testing center. Construction work on the famed Titan halted.

Why? Because a corporation in Millville, N. J., the Delsea Ironworks, Inc., had managed to get a minute (125,000) contract to build "camera sites and access stairways" for four Canaveral block houses.

The Delsea company hired non-union workers. That made it a feud between the iron workers and the corporation. Why put the people of the U.S. in the middle? But the "wildcat" cost hundreds of man hours and considerable money.

ACCORDING to confidential reports just submitted to the Pentagon and the senator, this is the story of each base. McClellan is not the last angry man aroused by local feuds which make kiwis out of Atlases and Titans.

Recently, one of labor's top leaders, after a briefing by the Defense Department, lashed out at the busy little barons who operate back at the missile ranges. He is Peter Schoemann, head of the United Association of Plumbers and Steamfitters, who said:

"We can only take one right course of action, namely, protect our jurisdiction but never at the expense of our country's safety and survival. Unfortunately, however, the record of the past few months hasn't exactly shown a shining concern for our country's safety and survival."

True. And our country's, too.

The Inaugural Speech

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON President Kennedy, a student of both history and the presidency, is credited with having written a classic in his inaugural address.

But his real achievement perhaps was that while he managed to convey a feeling of newness—and a new approach to peace—his words demonstrated his own sense of continuity with men who preceded him.

Lest the rest of the world get the notion America is fat and tired, he said, "The torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans."

And indeed it has, to such a degree that American leadership now is the youngest of any major power. The leaders of Russia, Red China, Britain, France and West Germany are old or aging.

But his use of the word "generation" has a special meaning for those Americans who were alive and listening when President Franklin D. Roosevelt in the crisis of the depression said his generation had a "rendezvous with destiny."

Kennedy made no such hopeful promise for his generation.

He said in the presidential campaign he did not know what the 1960s would bring "except hard times in the international sphere."

Because this is probably a conviction with him, it explains why he said in his inaugural that the work ahead will not be finished "in the life of this administration, nor even perhaps in our lifetime on this planet."

Letters To The Editor

A basic principle of our democratic way of life has been grossly neglected in the recent issue of Sunday skating.

This principle, one on which our country was founded, is the most important one—the right of the people to decide by ballot all issues, large and small. And I think this issue should be put before the public and let them decide.

I concede the right of freedom of speech of the most reverend clergy when they preach from the pulpit against Sunday skating. I also concede the right of the individual to make up his own mind, by ballot, on election day.

It may come as a shock to the clergy and a few of the people who expressed their feelings against Sunday skating that there are many, many of us sinners left who still like to skate on Sunday, go to the movies, bowl, swim, go to the amusement parks, have picnics, Sunday driving, long walks on Sunday evenings, or even watch television on Sunday night.

Their are a few of those public complaining hypocrites who enjoy

"American citizens both in and outside the building industry, both in management and in labor, have shown something less than full concern for continuous work on our missile base programs."

"I appeal to local unions and their members. Stay on that missile base job. Be tolerant, don't be rash. Be patient, not hasty. Remember when you strike one of these vital jobs you are playing directly into the hands of those who would be only too glad to secure for themselves work which is properly our own."

"Don't strike or picket these jobs without our approval. This could be a matter of life or death, and, after all, the life you may save this way may be your own."

True. And our country's, too.

His words were almost identical with a man of a generation between him and Roosevelt—Defense Secretary James V. Forrestal—who, looking ahead in 1948, said: "Not in our lifetime, or in that of the next generation do I foresee the time when a strong military potential will not be needed to back up our diplomacy."

Kennedy did not get that blunt in the inaugural speech.

But his views—like those of Presidents Truman and Eisenhower before him—are the same as Forrestal's as he showed during the presidential campaign when he said: "Peace requires an American defense posture strong enough to convince any potential aggressor that war would be a mistake. This means we must have a military force second to none."

Perhaps the most memorable phrase Kennedy has uttered since accepting the Democratic presidential nomination last summer was his vision of the "New Frontiers" facing America.

Here again he had a direct link with the past. He was not the first president to think in terms of American frontiers.

Just as Kennedy dwelt on the need for peace, so did Eisenhower in his second inaugural address in 1957 when he talked of building a "peace with justice in a world where moral law prevails."

Kennedy last Friday, calling on the Communist world to cooperate in the search for peace, suggested creating "not a new balance of power but a new world of law."

His statement about censorship is very odd. We need more censorship, not less.

A Popular Appeal

By David Lawrence

Active Politics Returns To White House

Just why did almost everybody approve of President Kennedy's inaugural address—Republicans and Democrats, conservatives and non-conservatives alike?

The answer is: Because the speech expressed eloquently, forcefully, clearly the foreign policy of the United States—its traditional principles David Lawrence for decades past.

But while America was thrilled by the speech, the Soviet Union censored it. This was a grim reminder of the problem faced by the new president. He is being prevented—even as was his predecessor—from talking to the peoples behind the Iron Curtain. Here are three passages which a Moscow dispatch tells us did not appear in the press of the Soviet Union:

"Let every nation know, whether it wishes us well or ill, that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend, oppose any foe to assure the survival and success of liberty."

"To those new states whom we welcome to the ranks of the free, we pledge our word that one form of colonial control shall not have passed away merely to be replaced by a far more iron tyranny."

"And let every other power know that this hemisphere intends to remain the master of its own house."

Presumably the Soviets didn't want to print anything that runs contrary to what their premier said recently in his professed opposition to colonialism or to be reminded by implication that there are several states now under Soviet domination which constitutes a new form of colonialism.

Presumably also the Soviet government didn't want its people to know of the resoluteness of the new president of the United States when he warns the Soviet Union that the American people will be asked to "pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend, oppose any foe to assure the survival and success of liberty."

For this timely warning was but another way of saying that America will negotiate, is not afraid to negotiate and is eager to "begin anew the quest for peace" but that this must not be construed as a bid for peace-at-any-price.

ALTHOUGH the Soviet newspapers didn't print the speech in full—and it was very short—Mr. Khrushchev and the others in the Kremlin undoubtedly read every word of it.

There were only a few sentences in the inaugural address which could be construed as relating to domestic policy, and it may also be asked: Why did these please all sides or at least the conservatives? The answer is to be found in this memorable sentence:

"And so, my fellow Americans: Ask not what your country can do for you—ask what you can do for your country."

This places an emphasis on self-reliance and is the true meaning of the opposition to the "welfare state." This has been too often distorted as opposition to all reforms and to all progress, when the truth is that no sensible conservative ever opposes direct intervention by the government in the economic life of the country in an emergency or when all other means has failed—as when private enterprise cannot finance a project essential to the general welfare.

Incidentally, Mr. Kennedy's pronouncement parallels the plea for a responsible individualism proclaimed in an admirable statement by the Catholic Bishops of America in their annual meeting at Washington on Nov. 20.

The first few days of the new administration have already brought out some interesting differences from the preceding administration. President Kennedy is an experienced politician. He knows his politics from first-hand contact with the organizations and its leaders. Mr. Eisenhower never knew politics. He was brought up in a different school of thought.

THE COUNTRY rather liked his nonpolitical approach but, unfortunately, he lost many a scuffle over legislation and public policies because he was not a politician.

President Kennedy has just chosen as chairman of the Democratic National Committee a very capable politician—John M. Bailey, Democratic state chairman of Connecticut for the last 14 years.

He is the man who sponsored the famous memorandum used at the 1952 and 1956 Democratic national conventions by the Kennedy managers to prove to the delegates that the Catholic vote can be a big asset to a presidential nominee if he is a Roman Catholic.

It gave facts and figures showing how the Catholic vote could be influenced and mobilized. Mr. Bailey has been in politics for 30 years.

President Kennedy will constantly keep his eye on the political weathervane. He didn't miss a trick during the inaugural parade as he waved and smiled to the various governors and leaders from those Southern states which supported him.

His first speech to the Democratic National Committee last Saturday indicated that Mr. Kennedy will be leader of his party in fact as well as in name. Active politics in the White House is somewhat reminiscent of the days of Harry Truman or—if a Republican parallel is needed—the days of Theodore Roosevelt.

Too Far South

By Truman Twill

This is a delayed reaction from events in Washington, D. C., during the inauguration of our new President.

Television did its now-to-be-expected workmanlike job of giving us a front seat at the ceremonies. It gave us a chance to see Henry Luce, the magazine publisher, showing deference to the chief executive by standing up when Mr. Kennedy spoke to him during the inaugural ball while others remained seated—meaningful details like that.

But television only hinted at what proved to be the most memorable thing about the inauguration—the impact of the snowstorm on the capital of the United States. Washington was close to helpless. It floundered.

President Kennedy did his best to challenge its latent virility by delivering his inaugural address without a hat or a coat.

But even while he was setting this personal example, Washington as a city was shaking and shivering in a snow flurry that would have been taken in stride by cities in the snow belt. Its transportation was snafued. Its people were wringing their hands and rolling their eyes.

This is the season when the polar bears and Arctic foxes look about them and wonder where all the chickadees disappeared to. There is a question how long the republic can survive if it must put up with this tendency to flee from hardship whenever the temperature drops below freezing and snow sifts into hip pockets.

The only time these refugees risk frostbite is when they rough it at plushy ski resorts. This is not the spirit that pushed back the wilderness and tamed the Indians. It isn't even the spirit that carried the law to Southern California and invented central heating.

Washington is too close to the Sunny South for the good of democracy. It is not an auspicious pad for the launching of a drive into Miami Beach, but it is too far from Duluth, Butte and Millinocket for safety. The American dream was not of tropical splendor. Yes, the American dream.

It's only recently that the dream has included year-around cuties in Bikinis and a palm tree in every yard. Geography teachers used to point out to their pupils that twice blessed is the civilization that fights frostbite because frostbite makes men vigorous while bananas make them pot-bellied and languorous.

It was alarming to know that Washington, D. C., was floored by a few inches of snow and a 20-degree temperature. Where some of us rough it, podnar, that would have been an excuse for our hairy, horny-handed offspring to start flying kites in celebration of Spring!

In making the announcement, Supt. Robert H. Hall said: "Englehardt, Englehardt and Leggett bring to us tremendous experience. They have done work in nearly every state in the union. They know what is being done nationwide and can tell us what the best practices are."

He added: "We want to project these buildings, we want a building with the program projected into the future. We want a flexible building that will meet the need of an expanded school program. They are both changing. We have to build for flexibility to change."

"Actually, this company will save us money," Supt. Hall pointed out, "because they know how to figure space. They will save us in my estimation many times the amount of the cost of the fee."

Fee of the consultant firm will be one-half of 1 per cent of the contract price. The architectural firm will pay one-fourth of 1 per cent, and the board will pay the other quarter of a per cent.

"I can't point it out now, but I will be able to later and the people will see this is a wise decision on the part of the Board of Education."

The board also completed contract agreements with Kellam 1 Foley architects who will receive the standard fee of 6 per cent of the contract price, Supt. Hall said.

Included in the architects' contract is a stipulation that a registered architect will supervise the building construction at all times.

Battle Over Proper Diet Rages On

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

From cavemen times, most humans have never been more than a half step ahead of hunger. Millions have starved. More millions are hungry today.

But hunger is a stranger to the great bulk of Americans, and some other peoples. Most eat well. Many eat too well. Many are overweight. And Americans are leading victims of heart attacks.

Second in a series.

Growing suspicion that an assassin sits at the dinner table centers mainly on high consumption of fats and rich foods, with resultant high levels of cholesterol and fatty materials in the blood.

Just last month, the top medical committee of the American Heart Association recommended reducing total fat consumption, and substituting some vegetable oils and other unsaturated fats for some of the animal fats now consumed, as a possible means of preventing atherosclerosis.

THE MAIN arguments are these:

1.—More than 100 years ago, fatty materials were found in the deposits which clog up arteries. Cholesterol was one.

2.—Atherosclerosis, the clogging process, has been produced in rabbits, rats, dogs, pigs, chickens, guinea pigs and monkeys by feeding them diets high in cholesterol and fats. Monkeys can even be induced to die of heart attacks this way.

3.—In humans, high blood content of cholesterol is associated with three to six times greater risk of heart attack in middle age.

4.—Overweight persons appear twice as likely to have heart attacks as those of normal weight.

5.—International comparisons generally but not always find higher rates of heart attacks where diets are high in fat content, and more people have elevated blood cholesterol.

Where diets are low in fats, and where blood cholesterol is lower, heart attacks are less frequent.

These people depend more upon grain, vegetables, potatoes, rice and fruits than upon meat and dairy products. Among the best known such studies are those of Dr. Ancel Keys and associates of the University of Minnesota, and Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston.

6.—In human tests, blood cholesterol can be raised by high fat diets, and reduced by cutting the intake of fats and substituting some "polyunsaturated" fats for solid or saturated fats. (About this, more in a moment.)

STILL, THE case is not yet proved that reducing dietary fats will prevent or reduce risk of heart attacks.

Proof could come within five to 10 years through studies in which hundreds of middle-aged men are cutting and changing fat intake, reducing weight, and becoming more physically active.

Such studies are underway by Dr. Norman Jolliffe in New York City, Dr. Jeremiah Stamler in Chicago, and Dr. Irvine H. Page of Cleveland.

The verdict depends whether these men have fewer heart attacks in coming years than men of comparable age who continue eating the typical American diet which supplies 40 per cent or more of total calories from fats.

With the evidence still circumstantial, few authorities are calling for drastic diet changes by everyone.

The heart association committee says that cutting fat intake probably would be most beneficial to persons who are overweight, who have already had a heart attack or stroke, or whose personal and family histories indicate they may be particularly susceptible to atherosclerosis. It suggests people consult their own doctors before making specific changes in diet.

CAUTIONS against racing into drastic diet changes are sounded also by Dr. Charles Glen King, research bio-chemist and executive director of The Nutrition Foundation, and Dr. Ogden C. Johnson, assistant secretary of the Council on Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association.

Dr. King warns that "the entire population is exposed to misleading claims about diets that are based on extreme practices not supported by good evidence, and hence may be both wasteful and harmful."

All experts agree we need a fair amount of fat in our diet for health. Cutting out all fats would be harmful.

Nor is it desirable to avoid all foods containing cholesterol.

The human body itself manufactures cholesterol, even from foods not containing cholesterol or saturated fats. Cholesterol is essential for health. This basic material is needed to manufacture sex and adrenal hormones.

But an excess of either total calories or saturated fats in foods apparently leads to excess cholesterol and fatty materials circulating in the blood.

So much of the current advice follows this line:

1.—Eat a well-balanced diet, which includes some of all the four basic types of foods — animal proteins, cereal products, vegetables, and fruits.

2.—Instead of getting more than 40 per cent of total calories from fats, cut this to 25 to 35 per cent.

3.—Reduce the proportion of calories from saturated fats.

Saturated fats generally are those which are solid at room temperature. They include most dairy and animal fats, and the visible and invisible fats in meat. No one is saying cut them out, for they are excellent sources of proteins, vitamins and minerals.

Foods higher in saturated than polyunsaturated fats include butter, eggs, most solid shortenings, many cooking fats, coconut oil, fats in chocolate and pastries made from them; whipping cream, sour cream, most cheeses except cottage cheese, and gravies.

MILK is average in saturated fat. Skim milk is very low.

Poultry and pork fat are less saturated than most animal fats. Many fats and oils consumed in this country are hydrogenated — a processing which retards development of rancidity and can be used to convert liquid fats to semi-solid or solid consistency. This decreases the amount of their polyunsaturated fats.

4.—Increase intake of polyunsaturated fats, by substituting them for some of the present saturated fats eaten.

Unsaturated fats — usually liquid at room temperature — don't supply materials to make cholesterol, and may even reduce blood cholesterol levels. They also supply essential fatty acids which the body itself cannot make.

Foods high in polyunsaturated fats include corn oil, cottonseed oil, soybean oil, safflower oil (but not coconut oil), vegetable oils, and fish oils (fish in cold water would congeal if their bodies had saturated fats).

The list also includes fruits and some newer margarines and shortenings, dressing oils, and cooking oils designed to reduce saturated fat content and increase the polyunsaturated types.

On salads, French, thousand island, and oil and vinegar dressings supply unsaturated rather than saturated fats, if the oils are not made from olive oil.

5.—Don't expect pills to come along which will keep blood cholesterol down while you eat anything you please.

Some drugs and chemicals do show ability to reduce cholesterol, by interrupting its manufacture or by other means. But these are still being studied carefully, with some questions about them not yet answered, and are being tested mainly in heart patients with high cholesterol.

6.—If overweight, reduce. And in this, contrary to widespread opinion, exercise and more activity can help burn up some of those calories so delightfully taken aboard.

One measure of the risk of a heart attack is the amount of cholesterol circulating in the blood. It's measured in milligrams (thousandths of a gram, with one gram being 1-28th of an ounce) per 100 cubic centimeters of blood. A pint of blood is 500 cubic centimeters.

Upper limit of normal: 210 to 225 milligrams per 100 cc.

Borderline: 225 to 259.

Frankly abnormal: 260 plus.

Above 300: Severely abnormal.

Only about 20 per cent of middle-aged American men have readings under 200, a "happy range," says Dr. Jeremiah Stamler of Chicago.

Continuing Claims For Jobless Decline

CLEVELAND (AP)—Bureau of Unemployment Compensation officials here are encouraged by a drop in continuing claims for unemployment benefits, the first decrease in this area in 18 weeks.

E. C. Schulze, acting BUC director said Monday continuing claims dropped 2,926 last week, when a total of 42,708 such claims were received. Initial claims, however, were 5,072, making the eighth consecutive week they have gone over 5,000.

Schulze said it was impossible at this time to say whether the drop in continuing claims meant that people were exhausting their benefits or whether they were going back to work.

He remarked also that "one week does not tell a complete story," but "it sounds good."

Brown Cites Reason On Appointment Snub

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown informed the Ohio Supreme Court Monday that he refused to appoint Jack Sullivan to the Mahoning County election board because he felt Sullivan was not qualified.

July 1962. Passage of the measure ended a month-long controversy in which the city demanded a $4-million rate decrease and the utility sought a $4-million increase.

Lisbon Council Adopts Funds To 'Tide Over'

LISBON — A temporary appropriation of $121,000 was adopted by Council Monday evening to meet fund needs until the year's appropriation is set by the Columbiana County Budget Commission.

Clerk-treasurer Ray Hempstead reported that last year's payroll was $79,025, which included $1,138 for volunteer firemen.

Bonded indebtedness for the village is $364,000, which includes the sewer system and disposal plant and $20,000 for the Sadie VanFoss Memorial Swimming Pool.

Due to the opening of a new A. & P. store on N. Jefferson St. just north of E. Lincoln Way, Council decided to ban north side parking on E. Chestnut St. between Jefferson and Vine St.

Council also discussed traffic conditions in the vicinity of Hilliers IGA market and the congestion that will result when the new A. & P. store is open.

One suggestion was to make Chestnut one way from N. Market to Vine. Mayor Dean Stockman gave the problem to the street committee for study and recommendation.

William McKenna, superintendent of the State Highway Department's Division 11 at New Philadelphia, sent three contracts to Council for renewal. One gives the department authority for paving state routes inside village, removing snow and ice and center lining.

The first agreements were signed back in 1944 but Council said the village usually cleans and cinders state highways inside. Mayor Stockman referred the agreements to the street committee, Ray Dixon, Bob Kelm and Fred Steele, for action.

Mayor Stockman presented a proposed contract for garbage disposal from the Tocco Co. of Mahoning County for pickup once a week at $1.50 to $1.75 per month. The firm requested a two-year contract. Council discussed the proposal but took no action.

Carl M. Turk of the Carl M. Turk Enterprises, Inc., which erected the new A. & P. market, invited councilmen and their wives to attend a dinner Saturday at 12:30 p. m. at the Wick Hotel to mark completion of the project. The group will then visit the store, which will open Feb. 1.

Bills of $5,463.45 were ordered paid.

The next meeting is Feb. 13 at 7:30 p. m.

Krupp Sale Delayed

BONN, Germany (AP) — The order to industrialist Alfred Krupp to dispose of his coal and steel holdings has been suspended for another year. The suspension was announced by a five-nation commission. No reason was given. Krupp won two previous extensions on the plea that he could not find a German buyer with enough money to rid him of his huge Rheinhausen plant.

British Royalty, Government Silent On Charge By Duchess

LONDON (AP)—British royalty and government officials today preserved expected silence toward the Duchess of Windsor's charge that she and her husband have been persecuted by his family since he abdicated in 1936.

Only a few of the duke's former subjects chimed in—some bitterly denouncing the duchess and the man who quit the throne to marry her, others supporting them.

There was no comment from the palace or the government—nor is there likely to be. Only three national newspapers reported the duchess' complaints, made in a copyrighted article in McCall's magazine. Only two papers carried comment.

The duchess, the former American divorcee Wallis Simpson, said the treatment given her husband, ex-king Edward VIII, has been "enough to break anybody's spirit." She accused the royal family—Queen Elizabeth II is the duke's niece—of trying to "erase every vestige of fondness his countrymen held for him."

She charged the British government wasted the duke's "unparalleled knowledge" by shunting him off during World War II to an insignificant military post and then to the governorship of the Bahamas.

Acid-tongued Charles Curran, conservative member of Parliament, newspaper columnist and television personality, charged the duke himself wasted his talents.

"His life is blameless, harmless, pointless, useless," Curran wrote in his weekly column. "Instead of waiting for Britain to employ him, why does he not employ himself? Why hover uneasily around the throne that he gave up?"

Gas Tax Funds Slated For City In February

The financially hard-pressed city street department will get its first 1961 share of gasoline tax money in February.

State Auditor James Rhodes said today in Columbus the first share for cities and villages will be distributed next month, but set no date.

The city's share from the gas tax revenue, along with funds from the sale of auto licenses, goes directly into the street department fund.

Rhodes said the first distribution of the gasoline tax funds for

Pair Escapes Fire At Home; Chief Made Ill

EAST PALESTINE — An 89-year-old woman and her brother, 78, were forced to flee from a $1,500 fire that hit their double house at 174 E. Main St. Monday afternoon at 3:45 and Fire Chief Glen Libert was overcome by smoke while investigating the source of the blaze.

Mrs. James Irwin, who will be 90 Wednesday, occupies one side of the double house and the other side is occupied by her brother, Walter Sutherin, and his nephew, James Verner.

Chief Libert, overcome by smoke when he went to the second floor of the Sutherin side of the house to trace the source of smoke, was given first aid by a local physician and remained at his home today, still recovering from the effects.

The chief blamed faulty wiring on Sutherin's side of the house. He said when he arrived smoke was coming through a ceiling lighting fixture in the diningroom. He encountered dense smoke when he went to the second floor.

The chief then summoned the rest of the department. He said most of the $1,500 damage resulted from smoke and water. Mrs. Irwin spent last night with a daughter, Mrs. R. E. McCommon, and Sutherin spent the night with a daughter, Mrs. Paul E. Lange.

Cunningham Bond Forfeit Is Considered

Action to forfeit the $1,500 bond of Ira Cunningham, sought since Thursday for possible start of a 1-5 year prison term for attempted bribery of a juror, is being considered by Prosecutor G. William Brokaw if the ex-officer does not return to custody.

Brokaw said this morning county officials have not yet learned of the whereabouts of the onetime police officer whose appeal of the bribery trial conviction was dismissed this month by the Ohio Supreme Court.

The prosecutor conferred with Cunningham Wednesday, and allowed him a day to make arrangements to file an appeal action. Sheriff Russell VanFossan could not find Cunningham the next day, however, and it was believed he had gone to consult with his attorney.

Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, counsel for Cunningham, plans to file a further action on the appeal dismissal shortly, his office reported this morning.

New Manager Due For Beaver Park

Elmer Hiles today was named manager of Beaver Creek State Park, effective Feb. 1. He succeeds Walter Burbick.

Hiles has been with the Division of Parks since 1950 when he started as a laborer at Cowan Lake near Wilmington. He was promoted to park manager at Jackson Lake in 1956.

The transfer, Flickinger said, "is in line with the department's policy of in-service promotion". He commented further: "The job at Beaver Creek will give Hiles experience and education different from what he has had before."

"He is a worker; and there is a lot of work to do at Beaver Creek."

Hiles is married and is a native of Clarksville in Clinton County.

County Relief Agency Waits New Foodstuff

LISBON — County Welfare Director Robert Bycroft, head of the surplus foods program, said today any additional surplus food made available under President Kennedy's new program will be given to county welfare cases when received.

At present, the agency does not have a list of surplus foods for February but he said he was told before President Kennedy made his recommendation for increased surplus foods, that butter might be added in February.

Bycroft said any surplus food made available must be given to all counties which have the program and he said he believes that if more variety of foods is made available the families entitled to receive it, would make more efforts to pick it up. At present, distribution includes rice, flour, corn meal, lard, beans and powdered milk.

It is hoped that the surplus foods warehouse will be moved by distribution time in February. County commissioners have rented the Heim building off E. Chestnut St. in moving the warehouse from Columbiana to Lisbon.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. What is a foolproof way of countersinking nails in wallboard without danger of the hammer's slipping and producing disfiguring dents in the board?

A. Try this two-hammer trick: Place the ball of a ball-peen hammer against the head of the partly driven nail. Then hit the flat face of the hammer with another hammer, and the nail is set. The little double made by the ball of the hammer makes it easier later to fill the nail holes with plaster.

Q. How can I remove varnish?
A. Use a sponge or a brush and apply a solution made of one part caustic soda and three parts lukewarm water. Allow the solution to remain for a minute and then scrape off.

Q. How can I clean the steel on the oven door?
A. The steel trimmings can be cleaned nicely, if done while still warm, by rubbing briskly with a soft cloth that has been dipped in vinegar.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Why is it that the hotel maid is usually "The Forgotten Woman"? My wife works in a first-class hotel. You wouldn't believe the things supposedly high-toned people do.

They leave beer cans in dresser drawers, dishes and trays under the bed and liquor bottles under mattresses. They wipe their shoes with the shower curtain, spill nail polish and ink on bedspreads and leave the tub filled with water because they're too lazy to turn a handle or pull a plug.

The maid is supposed to have the room in perfect order for the next guest. When people behave like pigs it takes a lot of extra time and work. They are the ones who never leave a tip. Is this right?—FRIED.

Dear Fried: No it isn't right. Orderly guests should leave about 50 cents for a one- or two-night stay. Slobs should leave $1.

Daddy's Darling

Dear Ann: You often have letters from women who complain because of mother-in-law interference. Well, this is from a man whose father-in-law won't stay out of the picture.

I married Elsa three years ago. Her mother died when she was 7, and her Dad has poured out all his affection and money on Elsa. From the start Elsa insisted on taking large amounts of money from him against my wishes so I decided the only way to make our marriage work was to move a few thousand miles away.

Her Dad came out to visit us even before the van unloaded the furniture. He stayed three weeks and when he left Elsa went back with him. She was "worn out," she said, from moving. She stayed five weeks.

When she returned her father came back with her. I haven't been alone with my wife for so long I've forgotten what it's like. He pays our bills, gave her a car and bought her a fur coat. I've told her I don't want her to take another penny from him. She says, "What's his mine?" What can I do?—JERK.

Dear Jerk: Your wife wants to be her Daddy's darling, not a married woman. Tell her to get a doctor to help her grow up or go back to her Dad for good.

Proxy Shower

Dear Ann: My son wrote us that he was married in Japan last week. He is in the service over there and met this nice American girl who works for the U.S. government.

I've been going to showers for brides for 20 years. When I tell you I have shelled out a fantastic amount for shower gifts I am not exaggerating. I want to give a shower for my daughter-in-law in her absence. They will be back in this country in six months.

I think it would be nice to surprise them with a table heaped with kitchen appliances and linens. My daughters say this would be improper. What is your view?—WILMA.

Dear Wilma: A shower for a bride who is half a world away is an obvious bid for gifts. The least you can do is wait till she gets over here — then clobber 'em. It won't be so transparent.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Meals Can Have Full Or Empty Calories

An ancient ruler regularly checked the weights of his wives by their footprints in the sand. A too-deep imprint presumably banished them from the court and exotic meals until they lightened the load. To bring it up to date, he curbed their calories.

Weight is always an unerring index as to whether the food consumed furnishes the right number of calories, too many, or too few. Since excess calories are stored as fat, calorie intake will always be the key to weight control.

The calorie is the unit for measuring the fuel value in a given food. Three kinds of substances furnish the fuel needed for energy — protein, carbohydrates (sugars and starches), and fats. Any food's calorie value depends upon which substance, predominates, protein, carbohydrates, or fat.

FATS ARE highest in fuel. Specifically, one ounce of fat yields 255 calories, while one ounce of protein or carbohydrate furnishes 113 calories.

In terms of food, an ounce of table spread provides more than double the calories in an equal amount of sugar or starch. For example, a glass of whole milk counts 185 calories, while a glass of skim milk or buttermilk counts only 85 calories. Why? The fat has been removed.

Another example: a medium sized potato, which is starch, furnishes 100 calories. But when a pat of fat is mashed in, the calories double.

Nutritionists speak of full calories and empty calories. The foods which furnish protective nutrients along with their fuel content can be called full calories — they provide their full share of proteins, essential minerals, or vitamins.

This dietitian likes to think of them as bargain calories — for they furnish an abundance of protective nutrients as they furnish fuel for go-power.

Today, knowledge of the nutrients in foods is equally as important as knowing the calorie value. Fuel measure gives no clue regarding the quality of the calories furnished. Choosing foods solely for their calorie value would be like buying a yard of cloth without knowing you were getting cheese-cloth or pure silk.

BACK IN THE vigorous days—before the automobile and modern conveniences — so much fuel was used one could eat anything he liked. Now we must be more careful about the source of our calories so that essential nutrients will be provided within our fuel requirements.

That brings us right back to good food habits. When our food preferences are for foods which keep us well nourished without supplying an overabundance of fuel, weight is maintained at the right level.

Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for "Revised Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

3 Dead, 4 Ill From Fumes

By The Associated Press

Deadly carbon monoxide fumes emanating from an unvented gas heater left three persons dead and four others, including two children, ill, near Logan last night. The tragedy lifted to nine the number of weather-related deaths in West Virginia since last Thursday.

Two central West Virginia women also died Monday as a result of fires.

Last night's triple fatality occurred in a home at Verdunville on Mud Fork, about four miles from Logan. Dead were: Mrs. Mary Meade, about 65, a cafe operator; her daughter, Ethel, about 27, and a neighbor of the family, Sherman Woody, about 65.

The bodies were found by a grandson of Mrs. Meade, Homer Junior Childers, 14.

Two children of the younger woman—Debbie, about 1, and Frankie, about 2—apparently were saved by their height—or lack of it, officials said. They were not tall enough for their heads to reach the worst of the lethal fumes. They were reported in good condition.

Mrs. Meade's son, Charles, a 24-year-old school teacher, and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. May Meade, also were overcome and were taken to a Logan hospital. Mrs. Meade, wife of Eddie Meade who was not at home at the time, was revived when the house was aired out.

Mrs. Lydia Dovie Stutler, 76, of Berlin, Lewis County, and Miss Lorena Mae Stalnaker, 25, of near Burnsville in Braxton County, died yesterday as a result of fires at their homes Sunday.

Police, FBI Hunt Bandit In Holdup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—After first asking the manager of a State Savings Co. office here for a loan and being refused, a robber pulled out a gun Monday and proclaimed, "This is what I really came for."

The manager, Allan McFarland, complied with the gunman's request to fill a briefcase with money. The robber fled with the briefcase with McFarland on his heels for a couple of blocks. Then the gunman jumped into a car and sped off. McFarland got the license number.

The robber didn't get very far before crashing into a pole. Police later traced the car to a North-side garage a few blocks away where the robber had taken the vehicle to be repaired.

Police and the FBI were still looking for him today.

John G. Lambert, State Savings president, declined to disclose the amount of money robbed.

Return To Podium Delayed By Ormandy

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Eugene Ormandy, who was injured in an auto accident last Dec. 20, has delayed his return to the podium until Friday afternoon.

The famous conductor was to have conducted Monday night but canceled his appearance on the advice of doctors.

The Atlantic Ocean and the Mediterranean Sea are connected by the Strait of Gibraltar.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Knowing Letters Important In Reading

Many a child in the first grade may know at sight 50 or more words, but scarcely a single one of the 26 letters of the alphabet. A New Jersey mother writes:

"Our son, age six, our third child, is in the first grade. He is good at reading all the words he is given in school, which now number Dr. Garry Meyers about 50, and he can pick them out in books and papers. But he does not know his alphabet. 'We work with him at least a half hour a night going over his letters but even though you just got him to remember one, he forgets it immediately. It seems incredible to us that he can remember his words and not his letters."

"HE SEEMS to love school and never complains of the time we make him spend studying, and seems to have a wonderful sense of humor about the whole thing—never sulks or gets discouraged."

"His teacher tells us not to worry, it may take a little time, but that he will get them. However, we never had any trouble with our two older girls, and just don't know how to cope with the situation."

My reply in part: Perhaps those older girls learned their letters early at school or had learned some of them during play before entering school.

It looks as if this lad has not been taught the letters at school. Indeed, his teacher may have tried to keep his attention away from letters. Apparently he has made it pleasant at school for him to memorize words at sight.

YOU SAY HE has learned 50 words. No doubt it is easier, as a rule, to learn a word than a single letter. The word usually has more meaning than a letter and is not so easily confused with another word as a letter is confused with another letter.

But, mind you, he has learned only 50 words and if he keeps on memorizing words, he will have to learn by heart a good many thousands before he can read all he will need to read in the next several years.

Yet there are only 26 letters of the alphabet to learn. Once he has learned them, they will help him figure out an indefinite number of new words.

You are wise in wishing him to know the name of each of the 26 letters wherever he sees it.

I AM SURE when you try to help him, you have him work on

Kennedy Seen Ready To Appoint Ohioan To Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Appointment of Ohioans to federal posts in the Kennedy Administration may start today, says Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, but as for himself, "I don't want one."

The governor told newsmen Monday that he had received a telephone call from Washington, telling that an appointment was in the works. He declined to elaborate, however, pending an official announcement.

DiSalle indicated he might start sending a series of special messages to the legislature this week or next. The first, he said, may be on education, with others expected to include utility rates and conflict of interest proposals.

The governor announced he had chosen as a replacement member on the Ohio Housing Board Msgr. Lawrence J. Corcoran of Columbus, for a term ending Dec. 21, 1963. He will succeed Ezra Walton of Columbus who resigned.

After the head, feet, bones, and entrails of a fowl are removed, the weight has been reduced from 15 to 20 per cent.

Agrees To Road Fund

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Highway Department has agreed to a $15,000 contribution by Clermont County toward the $168,950 costs for roads at the Nike missile base in nearby Felicity. County officials reported state action Monday. The state last May asked $46,000 from the county toward the Felicity base costs, but county officials said $15,000 was the best they could offer.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Ingrid Reminds Of The Good Old Days

The incomparable Ingrid Bergman has alighted in New York on a mission that can't help but remind us again of the good old days when drama was the reigning category of television programming.

She did once before, in her TV debut 15 months ago. As the governess in "The Turn of the Screw," Miss Bergman scored an emotional triumph, and, thus, underscored the great dramatic void, leaving seekers of quality theatrics to ask, "When will TV drama be restored to its rightful place?"

Marie Torre

Not many stars in the show business heaven are capable of stirring up old passions. But then how stars enjoy her kind of artistic independence!

"I REFUSE to work just for money," Miss Bergman will tell you. "When my children see one of my films, I don't want them to ask me, 'How could you do such an awful thing?'"

In an industry where they're accustomed to "crumbs" in the way of star services, Miss Bergman's willingness to give "a whole loaf" is not only rare but a credit to the medium.

Yes, Miss Bergman is a TV fan, as a participant as well as an observer. In some ways, in fact, she prefers it to her first love, the theater.

"It's a fascinating medium," she says about TV. "You give solid concentration to a play for two or three weeks, then you go on, and within 90 minutes it's all over. Done with!"

"A stay play, on the other hand, runs on and on and on. A long run can be interminable."

"ALSO, I LIKE the idea of the audience in TV's being able to get close to the performer. Closeups do much to heighten the dramatic effect, thought I must say it's almost impossible for an actress to look her best in television."

"The TV cameras can be rather harsh on the actress. The lighting can't compare with the lighting in motion pictures."

Miss Bergman will put up with the imperfections of TV for the second time in "24 Hours in a Woman's Life" (CBS, March 20), an adaptation of a Stefan Zweig story, in which she'll play a respectable English widow who falls in love with a young American (Rip Torn) in Monte Carlo and pays his gambling debts on condition he quit gambling forever.

UNLIKE SOME of her sisters in stardom, she doesn't balk at playing characters of her own age, which is 43.

"When I reached 30," she said, "I thought that was the worst age, even more painful than coming out of the teens. Actually, though, 30 is the best age for an actress."

"She can play, 20-year-olds and she has enough maturity to play a woman of 40, whereas the 20-year-old actress is too immature to understand the 40-year-old.

"Now I have to find things that suit me, and it's not that easy to do, but I think I'm happier. I don't want to work more than now and then."

"When you reach 40, things take on a different perspective. You can slow down enough to enjoy life rather than just work for a career."

THE SUCCESS of instructional courses on TV is evidenced by 112,000 adults, who, according to Nielsen ratings, answer roll call at the yawning hour of 6 a.m. these days to reruns of last season's modern chemistry course on "Continental Classroom."

Walking down memory lane's being a favorite TV pastime, NBC will review the popular songs of the past 30 years in "Remember How Great." On hand to remind us how "great" the songs were (and may still be) will be Jack Benny, Andy Williams, the McGuire Sisters, Juliet Prowse and Connie Francis.

ABC's "The Untouchables," currently under fire on charges of excessive violence, will receive an award in April from the National Association of Gag Writers for being "The Most Stimulating Gag Subject" of 1960. How about "Death Valley Days" for next year's award?

This year's "Emmy Awards" telecast has been set for May 16 (NBC).

The quest for billing recognition leads to the damndest titles, such as "CBS Reports Presents Face the Nation." The title will be used beginning Thursday when "Face the Nation" begins its weekly alternate run with "CBS Reports."

$100,000 Apartment Building Fire Kills 2

CLEVELAND (AP)—Fire that swept through an apartment building that houses more than 100 killed two persons Monday. Property damage was estimated at $100,000 by fire officials.

Dead are Kevin Logan, 6 months, and Larry Williams, 37, about 37. It brought to 20 the number who have died in Cleveland fires since Nov. 5.

Firemen rescued Mrs. Alice Logan and her daughter, Tanya, 17 months, from a window at the top floor of the four-story brick building. Mrs. Logan said because of thick smoke she had been unable to reach Kevin. When firemen got to the infant, he was dead.

Firemen found Williams' body in a hall outside his first-floor apartment, where the fire is believed to have started.

Ohio Water Service Asks 22 1/2% Rate Hike

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Water Service Co. is asking Lake County Commissioners to approve a 22 1/2 per cent increase in rates to subscribers in western Lake County. V. Victor Carty, executive vice president of the firm, told the commissioners Monday Ohio Water Service lost money in the last three years in Lake County. Carty said the deficit last year was $87,000, blaming the loss on higher operating costs.

The proposed increase would boost the average household bill from $10.60 a quarter to $12.99. The company has headquarters in Struthers.

Presbyterians Discuss Plans For Family Leadership Camp

Final negotiations for a Family Leadership Camp this summer at the Beaver Creek United Presbyterian Camp were made at a meeting of the Executive Board of the camp Saturday at the Salem First Presbyterian Church.

The camp was set for Aug. 20-26. The group met with the Rev. Harold Kaser of Coshocton, chairman of the Synod Family Camp Committee.

The negotiations marked the only "Family Camp" to be held by Synod this summer in the state of Ohio.

The purpose of such a camp is to train leadership in order that the Family Camp may be held in each of the Presbyteries next summer.

Preceding the meeting with Rev. Kaser, the members met to discuss financial matters regarding the Family Camp, the permanent staff that will be needed, registrations, insurance and meal fees.

A question and answer period highlighted the meeting with Rev. Kaser, who said that a morning and afternoon study hour will be held for the parents and will include Bible study and family discussions.

The Synod will furnish the leadership for the camp, comprised of three staff families from the Synod. Craft work and recreation also were discussed. Rev. Kaser said that a sub-committee on children's work in the Synod will make suggestions for crafts and recreation.

The camp this year will open June 11 and continue through Aug. 12. Registrations will begin at 3 p. m. instead of 2 p. m., so the campers can attend church services before traveling to the Beaver Camp.

Members of the Executive Board who were present included Robert Hummer of Girard, chairman of the Board of Trustees; the Rev. Boyd Burd of Kensington, chairman of the administration committee; the Rev. Richard Fruit of Lake Milton, chairman of the program committee; the Rev. Mark Allen of Toronto, chairman of the development committee, and Mrs. Donald Baxter of East Liverpool, registrar and secretary of the board.

The program committee will meet Feb. 12 at 2 p. m. at the Salem Church.

The Board of Trustees will meet March 11 at 1:30 p. m. at the Beaver Camp.

2 Men Bound Over On Murder Charges

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Raymond P. McDonald, 27, and Jerry W. Taylor, 21, both of Detroit, have been bound over to the Wood County grand jury without bond on first-degree murder charges. They are accused of stabbing to death Elmer H. Walker, 30, of Taylor Center, Mich., a Detroit suburb, after he drove them in his taxicab into Ohio early Sunday on a drinking spree.

At their arraignment Monday in nearby Fostoria, the two men told Acting Municipal Judge Walter M. Witherspoon they had signed statements admitting the slaying northwest of Fostoria.

Five 'First-Year Kids' Are Watched By Angels

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Reporters at the historic draft meeting in Boston Dec. 14 when the two newest American League clubs spent millions purchasing worn-out veterans and inexperienced youngsters were amazed when General Manager Fred Haney of the Los Angeles Angels selected five first-year kids—at $75,000 apiece.

"Aubrey Gatewood? Bob Sprout? Who are they?" the writers asked.

"Gatewood and Sprout are pitchers," said Haney. "They're just kids but some day they'll be big league stars."

It is doubtful whether Manager Billy Rigney expects them to make the club this year, but stranger things have happened.

Sprout, 19, is a left-hander with an impressive 15-7 won and lost record and a creditable 2.61 earned run percentage at Decatur of the class D Midwest

Group Is Split

NFL Owners Must Decide On Plan To Stock Vikings

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League meeting got under way today with the owners split into two factions on ways and means of stocking the new Minnesota Vikings.

One group wants to limit the number of players to be put up for grabs by Coach Norm Van Brocklin of the Vikings.

This faction points out that the Vikings already have been permitted to participate in the draft (they picked up 20 players), and have signed a pretty good quarterback in George Shaw.

The other group wants to give the Vikings the full list of 11 players to choose from—the same number the Dallas Cowboys picked from last season when they began operations. A spokesman for this group pointed out that even with the wide choice, the Cowboys didn't win a game.

"I think the Vikings should get the same break as the Cowboys," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle before entering the meeting. At any rate, the Vikings will wind up with 36 players, three from each team except the Cowboys.

It also seemed certain that the league will vote to expand its schedule from 12 to 14 games. All concerned agreed that it won't be easy, but that it is a necessity. Part of the solution will be to cut the exhibition season to five games and open on the weekend of Sept. 15.

"We'll have the problem of baseball at one end and weather at the other," Rozelle said.

Five of the Eastern and four of the Western Conference teams play their games in baseball parks. That makes for a scheduling problem. Furthermore, only Los Angeles, San Francisco and Dallas are reasonably certain of good weather late in the season.

Olympic Swim Star Honored

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A host of sports celebrities were on hand Monday night to honor swimming's Jeff Farrell and football's Norm Van Brocklin and Mike Ditka.

The occasion was the 57th anniversary banquet of the Philadelphia Sports Writers Association.

Farrell flew here from France, where he is studying for a post with the U.S. Foreign Service, to receive the award as the most courageous athlete of 1960.

The 23-year-old Kansan who swam at the University of Oklahoma and Yale won two gold medals in the 400 and 800 meter relays in the Olympics last summer, despite an emergency appendectomy six nights before the tryouts in Detroit. He refused to take a free berth on the Olympic swimming team, but instead earned it after working out in a pool with his side heavily taped.

The 34-year-old Van Brocklin, the new coach of the Minnesota Vikings who quarterbacked the Philadelphia Eagles to the National Football League title last year in his last season as a player, was given a plaque as the outstanding athlete of the year.

Ditka, an All-America end at Pitt who has signed with the Chicago Bears after being their No. 1 draft choice, was cited as the college football lineman of the year.

Retiring OSU Trustee Offers Grid Game Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University's retiring trustee Robert N. Gorman suggests that as a substitute for Big Ten participation in the Rose Bowl, the championship teams of that loop and the Southwest Conference play a postseason football game.

Gorman, Cincinnati attorney and former Ohio Supreme Court judge, made the suggestion in a farewell report to OSU trustees. He retired from the board a week ago after serving 9½ years.

Gorman said he favors the proposed interloop game on the first Saturday in December, with it being played one year in Dallas, the next in Chicago.

Such a plan, he said, would eliminate the faculty objection of extending the training well past the usual football season.

Wildcats Knock Purdue Out Of Tie In Big 10

By The Associated Press
Mid-semester examinations limited the major college basketball schedule Monday night to a pair of Big Ten games in which lowly Northwestern knocked off Purdue and Minnesota clobbered Michigan State.

Putting a halt on Olympian Terry Dischinger, Northwestern beat Purdue, 64-62, and knocked the Boilermakers out of a tie with top-ranked Ohio State for the Big Ten lead. Minnesota added to Michigan State's woes with an 89-70 victory.

In both games, the home team was victorious.

Dischinger, still operating with an injured middle finger on his right hand, was stymied by Northwestern's defensive tactics. The Wildcats played a four-man zone with the fifth man following Purdue's All-America candidate.

The Big Ten's leading scorer was limited to four shots and a total of six points in the first half and finished with 17 points for the night, far below his 29-point conference average.

Minnesota, a team which figures to be much better than its over-all 4-10 record, upped its Big Ten mark to 2-3 by crushing Mich-

Nothing Wrong With Eyes, Says OSU's Havlicek

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—John (Hondo) Havlicek, defensive stand-out for Ohio State's basketball team and the man who'll be guarding Purdue's Terry Dischinger, the Big Ten's leading scorer, in Saturday's game, says a doctor's check-up showed there is nothing wrong with his eyes.

Havlicek collided with teammate Larry Siegfried in the Buckeyes' win over Minnesota Saturday. "After that," said Hondo, "I had trouble seeing the scoreboard—my left eye was like looking through cracked glass. But it cleared up a couple of hours after the game."

The following day, Havlicek missed church services where he was supposed to read the Scriptures. The minister explained Hondo's absence by saying he had been blinded. A campus rumor quickly spread that Havlicek's eyes had been affected by the collision with Siegfried.

Ironton Murder Case

Due For Jury Today

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — The first-degree murder case against William Lloyd Sparkman, 34, was expected to go to the jury today. Sparkman, an Ironton truck driver, is accused of fatally shooting Walter Moore, 35, of nearby Coal Grove, at a trucking company's office here where both were employed.

The shooting last June 27 followed an argument over a load assignment given Sparkman by dispatcher Moore. Common Pleas Judge Warren S. Earhart turned down two defense motions to reduce the charge against Sparkman to first-degree manslaughter Monday.
